provided for in connection with the substidiary sliver coin, will be obliged to so trench on the currency balance of the treasury as to make public gold sales again necessary. This is to be regretted on every account, as nothing is of greater importance than that the treasury should keep up its gold balance. The telegrams stated the other day that the United States treasury is settling apart a special fund "for the purpose of redeeming silver." The New York World, of Tuesday, states that this is a blunder, for the object is to redeem, not silver, but fractional currency, to the amount of ten million. The World nads: "The currency legislation of June. 1874, January, 1875, and July, 1876, has not yet been curried into practice with an intelligent desire to improve any practice. adds: "The currency registrates and July, 1876, has not yet been curried into practice with an intelligent desire to improve our paper currency to a par with gold." In our local market jesterday there were no sales of home stocks or bonds of interest. The inquiry for gas stock appears to have ceased, with plenty offering at 97.
